

Fleetdown Curriculum Statement

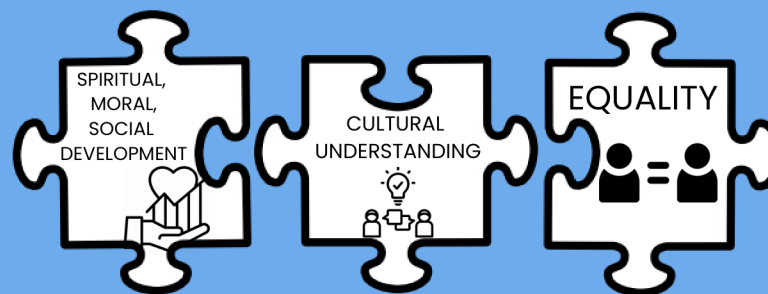

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Purpose

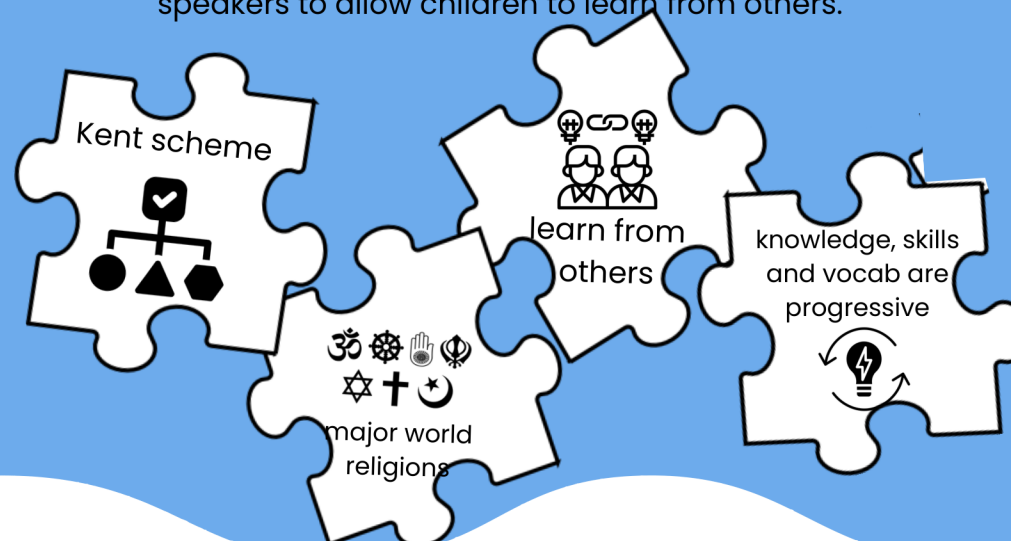

Religious education at Fleetdown allows children to explore their own beliefs and cultures, alongside beliefs different to their own. It enables children to build an understanding, and therefore respect, for those around them. Lessons allow children to share their beliefs with their peers and develop a sense of identity and belonging, whilst forming an understanding of the identity of others. .

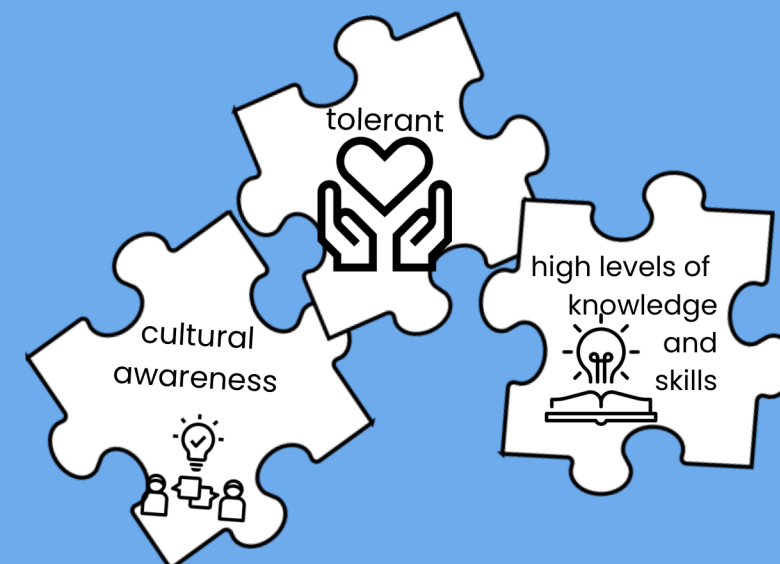

Implementation

We use the Kent RE scheme of work at Fleetdown to ensure that all of the major world religions are taught, with an emphasis on Christianity. We ensure that our children are given a range of experiences to support their RE learning, including visits and speakers to allow children to learn from others.

Impact

Our children show high levels of knowledge and skill in Religious education. They are tolerant children who have a good level of cultural awareness and are not afraid to challenge stereotypes.
